Unable to Attend or Already Attended EMP?

Consider nominating a participant

Organizations throughout Washington State and around the country send their senior-level managers to the EMP because they know that investing in these leaders has positive impacts throughout their organizations. EMP training provides these leaders the opportunity to:

- Examine ways to better integrate their agency mission, goals, and priorities
- Develop performance-based leadership skills to increase accountability
- Lead with intention and renewed vigor when they return to the workplace
- Obtain specific resources and concrete skills that will benefit their agency for years to come
